

Camporbiano farm

Poggio di Camporbiano was founded in 1988 by a group of friends who share the love and respect for Nature. The farm covers 200 hectares of fields surrounded by uncontaminated landscape characterized by wooded hills and natural reserves on the border between Gambassi Terme and San Gimignano.

They have always been cultivating organic and biodynamic farming. Here everything grows and raises at its own natural pace, respecting the needs of plants and animals, without the use of chemicals and antibiotics, trying to create a balanced and sustainable environment. The goats and cows are the faithful companions. They are free to graze in the extended meadows around the farm. They feed only on the fodder grown on the farm: hay and grass in abundance, with barley and bran too. Organic farming in Camporbiano is not just in compliance with the organic regulations, however it is a choice of life that is reflected both in agriculture and farming. Camporbiano is much more than a certificate!

At Poggio di Camporbiano you can find a wide range of groceries like dairy products, vegetables, cereals, fruit, olive oil and honey. They trust in the quality and authenticity of their products. Also in the transformation no additives, dyes or preservatives are used. The products can be purchased at the farm's shop. Upon reservation, Poggio di Camporbiano opens its doors for a tasting of its strictly BIO products!
