

A short excursion from Pompone and Pola to the Bollori springs

The walk that goes from the Pompone farm to the sulphurous pools of “I Bollori” explores a landscape of high naturalistic interest.

The road, passable but steep, offers beautiful glimpses over the entire Valdelsa, where the towers of San Gimignano and the town of Certaldo can be admired. Crossing through vineyards and wooded tracts of holm oak and oak, you arrive at the Casciani stream and proceeding up the left bank, to the Bollori springs.
